CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS

Monday, October 12th, is Columbus Day, the day we celebrate the anniversary of Columbus's arrival in the Americas, on October 12, 1492. (And although the banks will be closed, the rectory will be open.)

“The exact date of Columbus' birth is unknown (perhaps 436 AD). What is more important is the fact of his baptism in the Dominican Church of St. Stephen in Genoa. All we know of his early life indicates that he was deeply pious. It is recorded that he assisted at daily Mass at a convent chapel... Columbus came into the world at the end of more than seven centuries of Moslem domination of the Spanish people...and he crossed the Atlantic and found the New World within one year of the Catholic reconquest of the Iberian Peninsula. In the extensive writings of Christopher Columbus ...phrases like "our Lord Jesus Christ," and Christ "the Lord," recur in a way that leaves no doubt who Jesus Christ was in the faith of Christopher Columbus. He sees himself as contributing to the extension of Christ's kingdom when he quotes, "All the kings of the earth will bow down before Him, and all peoples will serve Him" (Psalm 72:11).

His favorite prayer, said in Latin, was Jesu cum Maria sit nobis in via, which means "may Jesus with Mary be with us on the way." For Columbus this way meant both the voyage through time into eternity and the voyage in time to bring Mary's faith in her divine Son to a still unbelieving world.” by Fr. John A. Hardon. View the entire article on www.therealpresence.org
